COUNTY PRECINCT NEWS.

READY NOTES.

Dan Fowles of Gandy came down from that place Monday and took the train for Michigan.

Andrew Gustafson and wife were thrown from a wagon by a runaway team but fortunately escaped injury.

Fred St. Marie of this place will open a pool hall at Maxwell. Fred Ouimette of North Platte will run it for him.

Sard Parsons has resigned his position as track walker at Maxwell and will work here until fall. Fred and George Carlson were up from Gothenburg Saturday.

E. T. Sullivan returned Friday from Grand Island.

Chris Parsons lost a valuable horse Thursday from eating poisonous weeds. On the same day the saddle horse of A. W. Mathewson died from abscess on the liver.

George Parsons made a trip to North Platte on his wheel Saturday.

Clyde Brown returned Monday from Greeley, Col., where he had been employed for some time.

Annie Johnson of the south side left Tuesday for Iowa, where she expects to keep house for an uncle who lost his wife some time ago.

Ben Hutton moved from Gothenburg to Brady last Saturday. He owns a half interest in the meat market at this place.

Jerome and Hulton moved a house from Gothenburg to Brady last Friday.

Cy Carson is loading his household goods and will leave for his ranch north of North Platte. Cy has lived in this vicinity for fourteen years and we lose a good and upright citizen.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS.

A. B. Goodwin of Hershey sold J. M. Dwyer last Saturday forty-five head of mixed cattle for a consideration of $1,007.50.

E. R. Ripley sold Jas. Ware on the Pawnee ranch last week fourteen head of cattle at $21.25 per head.

A few from this section will spend the 4th of July at Beer's grove over on the south side.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jones were combining business with pleasure at the county metropolis Saturday.

Several from this part of the valley took in the trained animal show at North Platte on Monday.

A man from the east has been holding a series of meetings at the school house in Hershey lately.

J. C. Gygar of the Nichols creamery returned the other day from a business trip to his former home at Julesburg.

Mrs. C. C. Wetzel of Hershey attended church at North Platte Sunday.

Several farmers are irrigating their crops in the valley to moisten the top of the earth, which is very dry and hard.

A majority of the fall grain in the valley will be ready for the harvester the coming week. It is a fine crop in every way.

Clarence Redmond of North Platte was up this way one day last week on business.

O. H. Eyerly and the Scharmann boys are delivering milk at the Nichols creamery.

Henry Abshire, a large ranchman of the valley, was at the county seat on business Saturday.

W. T. Miller informed us the other day that he had about twenty acres of fall wheat that could not be discounted in the county and that it will be ready to harvest this week.

J. H. Hershey will rebuild the barn and tool house that were recently burned on his ranch in the valley. The loss on the buildings was several hundred dollars over the insurance.

W. R. Brooks and wife went to North Platte Sunday where they remained until after the show on Monday.

Miss Liuda Layton, who accompanied by her mother and sister Mary, took a trip to Boulder, Col., for her health sometime since, have all returned, that country seemingly being of no benefit to her physically. Her sister Manda of Wisconsin, is now with her.

A large number from this vicinity will celebrate the coming Fourth of July at the county capital, where there will be plenty to be seen and heard.

The Hershey schools will have nine months school in both rooms the coming school year, instead of eight months as was previously stated. This is a raise of one month while at Nichols they cut the number of months down from nine to eight.

J. D. Strait of New Albany, Ohio, is the guest of his old friend Grant Bare at Nichols.
